

Plum blossom

There are two kinds of plum blossom painting:

- (1) white plum blossom, paint with lines
- (2) pink plum blossom, paint with black ink or color

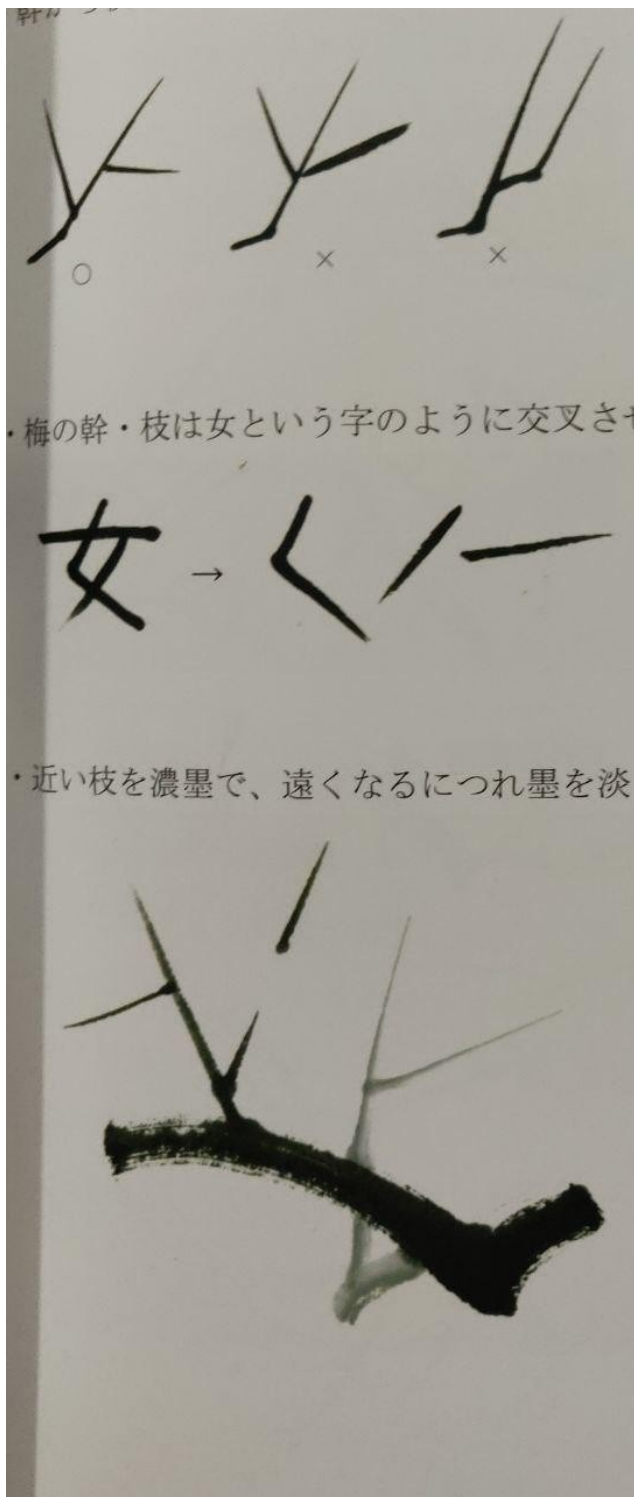

Both of them have the same things:

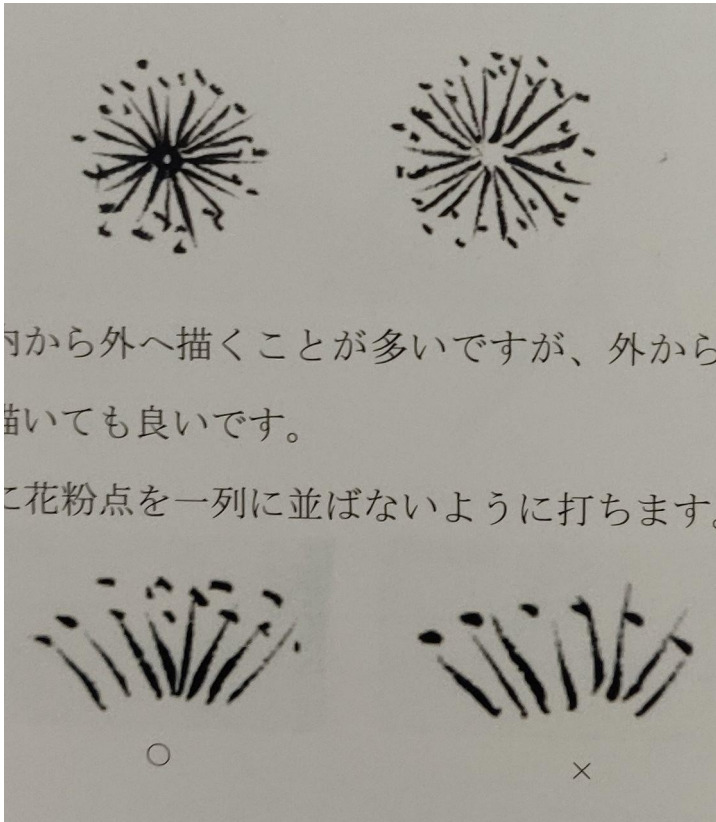

- paint the trunk using your big brush with less water

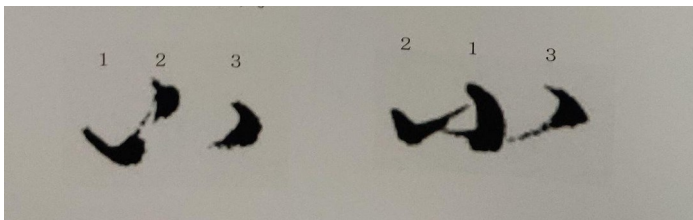

- paint the branches like this, using strokes in the Kanji character 女.
- you should follow the examples having a circle mark ○ and don't follow the ones with an X
- you can paint the branches using your big brush or small brush

- The flowers have stamens inside
- This is how to paint the stamens using your small brush

- This is how you paint the sepals, using your small brush

Let's start painting the white plum blossom:

- first, the trunk (big brush, less water, gradation)
- second, the branches (big or small brush)
- third, the flowers (see next page)

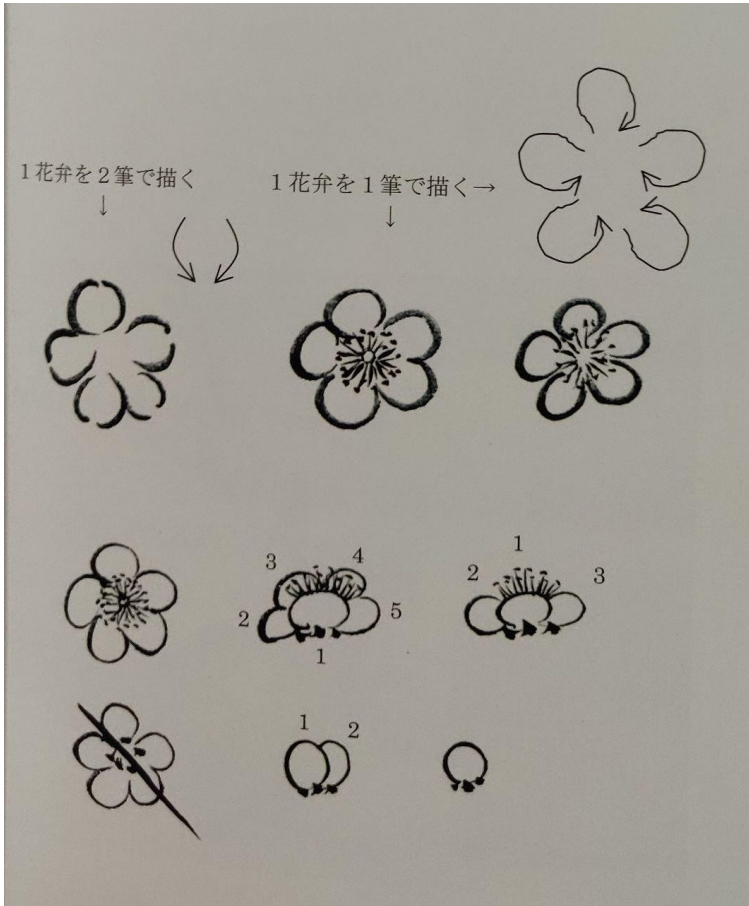

2. 枝を描きます。近くから序々に

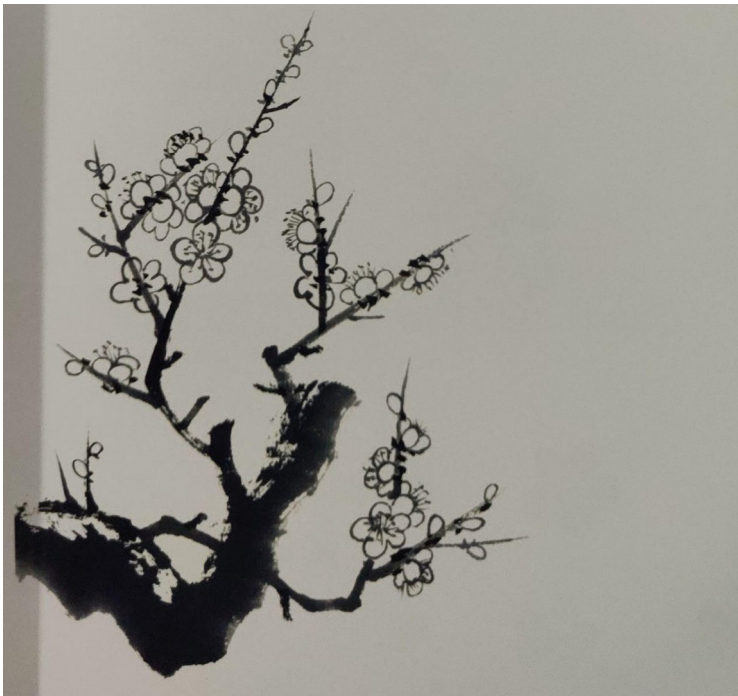

3. 枝に花をつけます。穂先に濃墨

- this is how you paint the white petals using your small brush
- after you paint the petals, paint the stamens and sepals

- Let's start painting the ink plum blossom:
- first, the trunk (big brush, less water, gradation)
  - second, the branches (big or small brush)
  - third, the flowers (see next page)

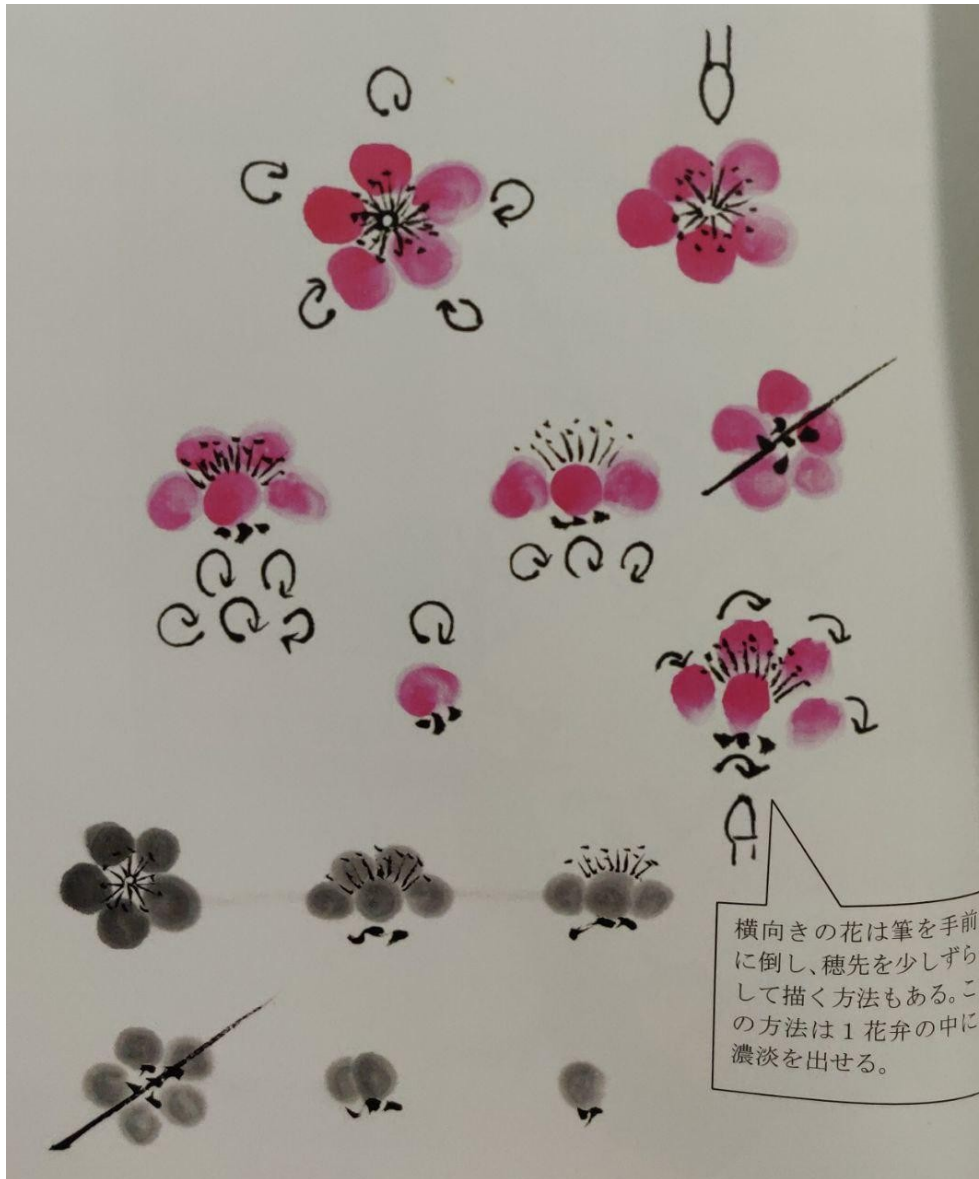

2. 白梅の[4-④-2]と同じように枝を描きま

3. 枝に花をつけます。穂先に絵の具の紅柑

- this is how you paint the ink petals using your big brush (you can use pink watercolor or black ink with gradation)
- make circles using your big brush to paint the petals
- after you paint the petals, paint the stamens and sepals
